A hedge fund uses a range of investment techniques and invests in a wide array of assets to generate a higher return for a given level of risk than what's expected of normal investments. In many cases, hedge funds are managed to generate a consistent level of return, regardless of what the market does. To understand what a hedge fund is, it helps to know what hedging is.

What Is a Hedge Fund? - dummies

Hedge funds are designed to reduce an investment risk (called hedging) while maintaining a good return on investment. You can sort hedge funds into two basic categories: absolute-return funds and directional funds. The following sections look at the differences between the two. Hedge funds are small, private partnerships, and hedge fund managers can use a wide range of strategies to meet their risk and return goals.
