The French organ school formed in the first half of the 17th century. It progressed from the strict polyphonic music of Jean Titelouze to a unique, richly ornamented style with its own characteristic forms that made full use of the French classical organ. Instrumental in establishing this style were Louis Couperin, who experimented with structure, registration and melodic lines, expanding the traditional polyphonic forms, and Guillaume-Gabriel Nivers, who established the distinct forms and style

This perfect CD offers a fine selection of French organ music by the masters of the period. Two selections (toccatas by Gigout and Dubois) are common, grand showpieces, but the rest are uncommon gems. I say "perfect" because the organ, the recording, the playing, and the selections are absolutely PERFECT. Bravo.
